

86%

of participants

agreed that AWEP-IVLP had helped them grow their business.

80%

of participants

expanded their business networks across Africa and the United States. They also reached new business representatives and U.S. Embassy contacts in their countries.

“One of the things I love [as a] byproduct of the AWEP (IVLP) program is that it gives you a continental network of female entrepreneurs.”

Botswana participant

The U.S. Department of State African Women's Entrepreneurship Program educates women in critical business skills.

Learn more about the impact of the U.S. State Department's African Women's Entrepreneurship Program through a recent evaluation at bit.ly/AWEPEvaluation.

